UNCONSCIOUS RACISM? AN INTRODUCTION TO SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH ON IMPLICIT BIAS AND ITS MEANING

Dr. Adam Hahn (Senior Lecturer)

How well can we assess our own biases and prejudices? To what extent do we have unconscious' biases that we are not even aware of? In this lecture, cognitive researcher Dr. Adam Hahn explores the question of what phenomena we mean when we talk about 'unconscious bias' and how we can examine and reflect on them. For example, what exactly does the popular "Implicit Association Test" measure — and can it contribute constructively to our approach to racism and other forms of discrimination?

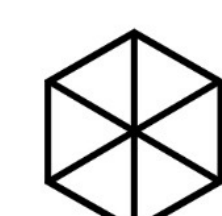

Dr. Adam Hahn is Senior Lecturer at the University of Bath (UK). As a psychologist, he conducts social-cognitive research on stereotyping and prejudice.
