

Student Researcher at LIAS in Culture and Society

The LIAS: Leuphana Institute for Advanced Studies in Culture and Society at Leuphana University of Lüneburg is a research institution and serves to internationalize and raise the profile of the university's main research areas. It is supported by an international fellowship program.

As a place for free research, LIAS seeks to scientifically meet the challenges and urgencies of our globalized present. It is located in the university's central building designed by Daniel Libeskind and it is characterized by interdisciplinary collaboration, university integration and co-creation.

LIAS is looking for one student assistant (20h / month) as soon as possible, initially for one term, to support science communication as well as in the organization of events and administrative activities.

Tasks:

- Supporting the Communications Officer in all LIAS research communication tasks
- Assistance with media relations
- Researching and writing short texts
- Participation in meetings
- Supporting research communication with administrative tasks
- Answering enquiries

We desire:

- Great interest in science communication
- Degree in Cultural Studies, Cultural Management, Digital Media
- initial practical experience in PR, editing, journalism, cultural management, etc.
- very good knowledge of German and English as well as stylistically confident written expression skills
- Confident handling of MS-Office
- enjoy working in a non-student team
- Reliability, flexibility and commitment, as well as a structured and independent way of working

We offer:

- regular working conditions and a very good working atmosphere
- a salary according to the current Leuphana student rate

Application deadline is July 18, 2025. If you are interested, please send us an informal mail with a motivation letter and your CV with the subject "LIAS SHK WiKo" to lias@leuphana.de.

If you have any questions regarding the content, please contact Dr. Christine Kramer (christine.kramer@leuphana.de).