THE HISTORY OF SIMULATION AND COMPUTING

Claus Pias | David A. Grier

Claus Pias is professor of Media Theory and History at Leuphana University Lüneburg and director of the MECS together with Martin Warnke. He is co-founder and director of the Centre for Digital Cultures (CDC) at Leuphana University. Before he started at Leuphana in 2010 Pias was Associate Professor for Media Technology and Media Philosophy at the Ruhr-University Bochum, professor for Communication and Media Studies at the University of Essen, and professor for Epistemology and Philosophy of Digital Media at the University of Vienna. His research more generally focuses on the history and epistemology of computer simulation and the history of media studies.
