BACHELOR PROGRAMMES AT THE FACULTY OF SUSTAINABILITY

It is the mission of the Faculty of Sustainability at Leuphana University to inspire and promote a just and sustainable future. We seek to conduct excellent, internationally recognised, problem-oriented inter- and transdisciplinary research and teaching within the field of sustainability science. Key to our Bachelor programmes is their inter- and transdisciplinary approach as well as a mix of natural and social sciences. Consequently, you will acquire skills which enable you to understand complex correlations between different problems, think connectedly, analyse interconnected processes, and find sustainable solutions.

STUDYING AT LEUPHANA COLLEGE

At Leuphana College, the Bachelor degree programme consists of four components: Leuphana Semester, major (main subject), minor (subsidary subject) and Complementary Studies. As an exchange student you can study all modules offered at College. This is how you can customise your studies to suit your individual needs. You also have the opportunity to learn German as a foreign language or to deepen your language skills in another language. The Faculty of Sustainability offers two majors and two minors at College: the majors in Environmental Sciences and Global Environmental and Sustainability Studies and the minors in Sustainability Sciences and Spatial Sciences.

LIVING IN LÜNEBURG

Lüneburg is one of the most fascinating towns in North Germany. Its historic architecture stands in charming contrast to the lively, young urban life. Lüneburg is a university town and home to 9,000 students who play a major role in public life. Should you occasionally crave the big city life, the busy metropolis of Hamburg is only a thirty-minute train ride away. To make your stay a most pleasant and enjoyable one, the International Office will be pleased to assist you in planning and organising your studies abroad. We look forward to welcoming you at Leuphana!

APPLICATION AND ADMISSION

Leuphana University participates in a number of exchange programmes with European and overseas universities. If you want to have a study abroad experience and would like to come at Leuphana even if your home university is not a partner, please apply online at International Office in Lüneburg.
