

VERANSTALTUNGSREIHE WISE 2016/17: Robin Marwege am 24.01.2017

18.01.2017 The workshop will take place at C12.015 from 10.15 to 11.45.

This session will be a workshop on how to communicate what we really mean by using "sustainability". We will work together to identify traps and obstacles when using "the term that should not be named" - at least that is what some scientists and especially journalists say.

In the recent volume of Umwelt-Aktuell Prof. Daniel Fischer and Robin Marwege have thought about how to reconnect the sustainability discourse to its core content and how to overcome the criticism of lost meaning or even greenwashing - with this SuCo<sup>2</sup> workshop Robin Marwege wants to share some of these ideas and explore new aspects with you.
