

The German Research Foundation (DFG) has granted Professor Christian Welzel the Reinhard Koselleck award of the amount of 1.2 million Euro

The project will conduct research for the project 'The Cool Water Effect: Why Human Civilization turned towards Emancipation in Cold-Wet Regions.'. Reinhard Koselleck grants (named after one of Germany's foremost historians in the 20th century) are the German Science Foundation's most prestigious funding program for single researchers.
