

Leuphana Award for Young Scientists to Prof. Dr. Paul Drews

2018-07-05 On the this year's dies academicus of the Leuphana University on 4th July Prof. Dr. Paul Drews, Assistant Professor for Data Science, has been awarded with the Leuphana Award for Young Scientists. Prof. Dr. Paul Drews convinced the jury by his diversified scientific activities in strategic IT-management as well as in the area of digital transformation processes in organizations.

Further he was involved together with two international renowned colleagues as guest-editor in editing the MIS Quarterly Executive and achieved outstanding success in acquiring third-party funds.

Moreover Prof. Dr. Drews gets involved in the collaboration within the Data Science and led the preparation and organisation of the Data Science Multi Conference 2018 in the Leuphana University.

We congratulate to the award!!

Prof. Dr. Paul Drews

Datum: 2018-07-05

Autor: Dipl.-Ök. Karin Glinder

E-Mail: karin.glinder@leuphana.de